FIRE DESTROYS TWO LARGE BARN

And Threatens a Number of Fine Homes but is Held in Check by Firemen.

Fire which for a time threatened to destroy a number of fine residences on Carr avenue at noon Thursday completely destroyed two large barns belonging to Harvey Hurst and John Stuart. The property loss amounts to about $3,000 with no insurance.

The fire was discovered shortly before the noon hour by Mrs. M. V. Hurst, mother of Harvey Hurst, owner of one of the barns. At the time she discovered the fire, the flames were leaping over the top of the barn and the whole interior was a mass of flames.

The East End fire department was the first to reach the scene and had several streams of water turned on the flames before the Central department arrived. Soon after the arrival of the Central department the flames, which had such a start, were checked, and by clever work of the fire departments the homes of L. W. Anson, R. B. Willson and Frank Gaylord, which were within twenty feet of the burning barns, were saved. Several times the flames broke out in a new place and before the firemen could see through the dense smoke caused by the tar roofs on the stables and burning hay, the flames had scorched a house and it looked like fire would start at any time when one of the firemen turned a stream of water on the threatened spot and checked the danger.

In the Hurst barn, where the fire started, a large amount of household goods were stored along with a complete transfer equipment and a small amount of feed. In Mr. Stuart's barn feed, harness and similar equipment were also stored, all of which was burned. Mr. Stuart, who arrived on the scene some time after the fire started, had no trouble in leading his driving horse out of the burning stable, and then released about fifty chickens from a henhouse which was already a mass of flames.

It is thought that the fire started from a spark blown from a receptacle used by one of the residents of Carr avenue to burn waste papers in as there was no one in either stable since early Thursday morning.

R. B. Willson, owner of one of the threatened houses, was loud in praise of the fire department and said he wanted to thank every member of both departments publicly for their noble efforts in saving his own and adjoining houses.

LEWIS COUNTY NEWS EVENTS ARE REPORTED

Correspondent Keeps Tab of That Section for Readers of the Telegram.

WESTON, Nov. 2.—A Sunday school institute will be held here in the local Baptist church on November 15, 16 and 17, with interesting sessions each afternoon and night. The instructors are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snow, Mrs. Mary Foster Byrner, Mrs. George H. Geyer, Alfred Day and the Rev. J. J. Rivers.

On Tuesday night the people of the city celebrated an old-fashioned Halloween by having a masquerade parade composed of many freak costumes and two bands furnished the music. This method of celebrating is to be commended as it does not leave lots of poor families the next morning to construct new fences, walks, etc.

The apartment house being built on the corner of Third and Center streets is progressing nicely. Dr. Keener is a wide awake man and a credit to the town.

A two and one-half foot pike was caught above town last week by "Billy" Stalnaker, the popular railroad engineer.

J. W. K. Hays attended the biennial Epworth League convention at Morgantown Thursday.

PRANKERS

Do Little Damage on Halloween and Chief is Commended for His Stand.

There was less destruction of property on Halloween this year than ever before, according to reports from all sections of the city. One was in the form of a letter from the Watter-Lambert Company, reading as follows:

"We are taking occasion to express to you our appreciation of the thorough manner in which the police department enforced the order against defacing property during the celebration of Halloween."

"For the first time in a number of years, the celebration took place without any apparent damage to property or inconvenience to business men of Clarksburg."
